

Barbara V. Evers

When we reach beyond ourselves
We're closest to spreading our wings to fly.

Barbara Evers inspires and motivates her audiences to stretch their potential and reach for the pinnacle of their success by sharing stories from her life in an engaging manner. She draws on experiences that touch her audience with inspiration and humor.

Barbara's 25+ years experience spans the arenas of sales, informational seminars, training, and community education about domestic violence.

Creating Meaningful "Ah Ha" Moments

A simple request for ladies to step forward and share their stories within a Bible class led Barbara to dig down deep and find the courage to share her story with women who didn't know the struggles she had overcome. She found freedom in revealing the difficult elements of her own past, and joy in sharing how it led her to a stronger faith.

Barbara holds a Masters in Professional Communication and works as a trainer, public speaker, and author. She's a 2013 graduate of Advanced Christian Communicators and lives in Greer, SC with her husband. They have five children, three incredible grandchildren, and a lab mix named Abraham.

Ph 864-414-5693

Barbara@Eversworks.com

www.Eversworks.com

TheWorkbenchOfFaith.wordpress.com

Testimonial:

Barbara's resilience in the face of despair is an inspiration. As she recalls her journey through personal, social, and familial obstacles, she shares her heart and bares her soul. Her ability to demonstrate empathy and connect with her audience places her apart from those speakers who merely talk to their audiences. Barbara has been there, done that, and came out all the better for it.

Valerie A, Teacher, Non-fiction Writer, Spiritual Advisor

Ministry Topics

Enough Skeletons to Build a Family...A Large Family! – As Barbara exposes the amazing works of God in her life, she helps others find their own blessings amid life's trials. She reveals skeletons in her closet, discussing the reality of teenage pregnancy, domestic violence, divorce, single parenting, and much more. No matter what your troubles, the skeletons in your closet will never shock or surprise Barbara.

Don't Let the Garbage Turn You Into Oscar the Grouch! – No matter what your troubles or mistakes, Christ's salvation can cleanse you and make you pure and whole again. Barbara uses an unusual experience in her life to shed light on this amazing grace.

Make Up Your Mind! – Let Barbara share her path to understanding how you can believe and not believe at the same time. A man asked Christ to heal his son, but ended up expressing his unbelief. It happened. Journey through Barbara's exploration of this man's words when she faced the same issue after an unexpected accident led to her mother's declining health.

Motivational Topics

You're Not Crazy, You're Wired That Way – As a certified administrator of the Myers Briggs Type Indicator, Barbara demonstrates how God wired each of us to relate to others, gather information, handle decisions, and create structure...or not. Participants learn about their own traits as well and how to accept those with very different approaches than their own. With the MBTI, Barbara helps you discover new ways to use your gifts in a way that complements your style.

Say What? – Many times our efforts at communication result in unexpected results. Most miscommunication problems boil down to recognizing the three parts of communication. Believe it or not, formal education only teaches one of these, so it's no surprise we all have communication problems. Using fun examples, Barbara will help you to prevent many of these problems in your communications. As an added bonus, she will help you learn to listen with interest and enthusiasm.

Looking for something different? Barbara can customize and develop messages to fit your needs. Check her training website and blog for ideas.

Testimonials

Barbara is an exceptional and motivating speaker, and I've seen how her encouraging and inspirational words have touched the lives of many. She has a way of incorporating enthusiasm and wittiness in her message and leaves one with a sense of fulfillment. I am truly a product of her encouraging words, and I would not be where I am today had it not been for Barbara.

Evelyn P., Counselor, Word Of God
Christian Counseling

With the ease of an experienced pro, Barbara solved my dilemma in mere seconds. When I came to her with knees knocking, hands shaking and voice trembling at the mere thought of speaking, she taught me how to relax before and during the speech and to forgive myself and move on if I make a mistake. If you need help, seek this woman. She'll take your hand and walk you through the process, and she'll go the extra mile for you simply because that's who she is.

Vickie D., Award-Winning Author

When we reach beyond ourselves, we're closest to spreading our wings to fly.

864-414-5693 * Barbara@Eversworks.com * Eversworks.com * TheWorkbenchofFaith.wordpress.com